THE HUNGER ABOUT

We met with our guests to tell them that gastronomy is not only a consumable but living, changing and transforming story. We satisfied various cultures and tastes in Turkey and other regions in the world by growing more each day.

Along with cultural tastes, untried international tastes became more popular as eating habits changed and interest to gastronomy increased recently. In face of such change, we aimed to elevate the international cuisine to a higher level by presenting our guests' first experiences in an original and unforgettable manner on each plate.

LET'S TALK ABOUT US

The fact that establishments all around the globe present the same standards and promises led us to a different level by distinguishing us from the rest. Finally, being a part of The Hunger became a privilege for anyone. Each of our branches got their own regular customers thanks to our original presentation style, hunger for innovation and interior design that allows pleasant moments.

MENU

Our rich menu, where the international cuisine meets the desire to explore, takes shape in the hands of our professional team thanks to their fresh recipes. Each detail and each new product is prepared with special care for different tastes of our guests. Our courage to think outside the box lies at the heart of The Hunger's ability to meet people with different tastes.

The adventure, beginning in the kitchen and ending on a table, part of our menu presenting specials of the Turkish and international cuisine, reoccurs with different tastes each season. Various recipes that may be preferred on each moment of the day, ranging from breakfast to dinner, from desserts to cocktails come together. Therefore, a living and changing crowd is attracted all day long.

BEHIND OUR SUCCESS...

Our passion to do better, ability to each day freshly present tastes that deserve to be more than a plate, courage to make an impact on the international cuisine by a special touch for each taste, sound steps that are not afraid of sharing and growing are definitely the source of our success that begins in the kitchen and ends on crowded tables. When all of those are combined, we only have to do what we do best...

EXPANDING TO THE WORLD

In line with our growth aim, since day one, we continue to represent international tastes with the same pleasure in each continent, country and city where we are located. Our menu that changes through seasons and range that brings together all international tastes undoubtedly guide the way for our steps.

We aim to combine the universality of the eating and drinking culture with a content that appeals to all eating habits around the globe. We work for the embrace of the Turkish and global cuisines by different cultures with the same satisfaction and quality. We know that a professional team, the right location and good food will absolutely bring together each individual to the same table.

CONSUMABLE TASTES

The rise of gastronomy in recent years created a sociocultural basis for eating. With this change, gastronomy started drawing attention as a product of art.

Increases in populations and low crops also had a huge effect on people's eating and drinking habits.

While eating habits such as veganism, vegetarianism, fruitarianism, gluten-free eating increased over time, the need for healthy food where seasonal crops are used also increased. In this direction, we gather together changing and transforming needs and healthy and consumable tastes with our vision that respects the perfection and diversity of nature. We prepare new trends with original
